Central and Eastern European Network of the UNESCO Chair in Bioethics

SEMINAR

Disaster Bioethics: Risk and Relief

The Central and Eastern European Network of the UNESCO Chair in Bioethics and the Center for the Study of Bioethics, in partnership with the Center for the Promotion of Science and the Center for the Development of Liberalism, are organizing the seminar "Disaster Bioethics: Risk and Relief". The seminar will be realized in the framework of the project "COST Action IS1201: Disaster Bioethics: addressing ethical issues triggered by disasters". It will be held in Belgrade on 9 May 2014.

SEMINAR PROGRAM

15:00-15:30 Welcoming address: "Morality in the Face of Disasters"

Vojin Rakic (Center for the Study of Bioethics, Central and Eastern European Network of the UNESCO Chair in Bioethics, Belgrade, Serbia) + a representative of the Center for the Promotion of Science, Belgrade, Serbia

15:30-16:00 "Existential Risks, the Tragedy of the Commons, and the Value of Future Generations"

Milan Cirkovic (Center for the Study of Bioethics and Astronomical Observatory, Belgrade, Future of Humanity Institute, Oxford University)

16:00-16:30 " Access to Unproven Cell Therapies in Times of a Disaster: An Analogy to the European Regulation No 1394/2007?"

Bianca Buechner, Center for Ethics and Law in the Life Sciences (CELLS), Hannover, Germany, IU Center for Bioethics, Indianapolis, USA

16:30-17:00 Coffee Break

17:00-17:30 "Medical Ethics in War: the Physician-Soldier and the Problem of Dual Loyalty"

Sheena M. Eagan Chamberlin, University of Maryland University College, Center for Medicine After the Holocaust, USA

17:30-18:00 "The Sociology of Disaster: Methodological approach for detecting indicators of the vulnerabilities and resilience among the marginal social groups and possible prevention of their victimisation"

Veselin Mitrovic, Center for the Study of Bioethics, Faculty of Philosophy, University of Belgrade, Belgrade, Serbia

18:00-19:00 Discussion and questions from the audience